On page 6, lines2 and 6, "21" must be changed to -22-.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Karpov.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Karpov, teaching applicant's basic bed, but not an oval shape, in view of Sampson et al, teaching an oval shape in an inflatable bed.

Claims 12-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Karpov in view of Samson et al as applied to claim11 above, and further in view of Newborn, teaching the use of a non horizontal air mattress.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time of the invention, to have made Karpov's mattress, as modified by Samson et al with an incline, because Newborn recognizes the desirability of inclining a mattress surface, in order to incline a user resting thereon.

Art Unit: 3673

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Karpov, teaching applicant's basic mattress, but not the fluid communication between the first and second chambers, in view of Lin or Post, both teaching the use of fluid communicating first and second chambers in an air mattress.

Claims16-19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Schick et al (note U shaped dividers), Howard, and Curry, teaching the use of "U" shaped beds, are cited as relevant art.
